CARLIN-HI

1968

Carlinville High School

Carlinville, Illinois

Therefore whosoever heareth these sayings of mine and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock.

And the rain descended and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat upon the house; and it fell not:

For it was founded upon a rock.

Matthew 7:24, 25

And so our school was founded upon a rock, and the character and the friendship and the education that are received here will be the building blocks for our tomorrow . . .

Building Blocks of Friendship . . .

Okay, Dave, this isn't an Ultra Bright commercial.

Happiness in our friendships is found in the simple things,

a lively laugh,

a refreshing tear,

an understanding smile . . .

"Who shot off that bomb?" is Mr. Schonebaum's reaction.

Making friends while studying in the library.

"Got a spy plan in my locker, want to come and get it with me?" says super spy John Yowell to friend Dana Kuntzman.

It's been a long hard day.

"My parents were ashamed of me until I lost '68" pounds," confides Bob Lapp.

Proof positive—you'll get a blue excuse for this.

"I've got an idea!" Frances tells Wayne.

Building Blocks of Character . . .

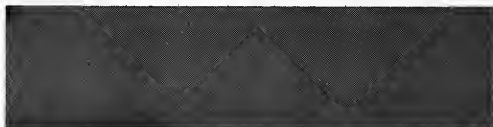

Living demands an involvement with which we mix individual vitality, enthusiasm, and initiative into a happiness which fills the lives of us all.

Contemplation . . .

Just a sample of the resource material available . . .

The class records . . . a recording of individual achievements.

The Guidance office offers Ted Rosentreter and Ruth Ellen Perrings a variety of helpful materials.

"M-m-m," says Judy Selvo, "no, I can't say that I've acquired a gourmet's taste for chemistry recipes, but now Julia Child . . ."

National Honor Society—those who house a hundred ideas.

"Stop scratching your head, my mom can't resist a bargain and hair cuts were on sale this week . . ."

"Just know the end of this pencil contains an alloy," thinks John Behme.

They were thinking of putting the flag upside down—a sign of distress.

Building Blocks of Activity . . .

Squeaky chalk makes lovely letters.

Move over I'm a senior . . . poster splattered walls . . . ohhhhhh crowded halls . . . last bells
. . . campaigning . . . Homecoming . . . practices . . . burning the midnight oil . . . crepe paper . . . committees . . . colds . . . full lockers and then step to another tomorrow . . .

"Now don't quote me, boys, but . . ." says Dan Curry.

Mutter, clutter, chatter. Crowded halls and lockers.

"This is the way they walk in the Miss America Pageant," Cheryl tells Karen as they gracefully descend the stairs.

Milton's II Penseroso

With the help of a college year book and a cup of the "think drink" Sonya does some planning . . .

For whom the bell tolls, you, if you're late.

Contrary to popular belief, there is no shortage of desks which would be the cause of such "crowding up."

Superintendent's Message

Anticipation results in a pleasant and comfortable feeling when based upon carefully laid plans which are conscientiously and diligently carried out. Knowing the Carlin-Hi co-editors, Judy Mieher, Elner Hammann, and their staff, I am anticipating that the 1968 Carlin-Hi will reflect an accurate, interesting and complete record of the activities and achievements of the students of Carlinville High School in 1967-68.

R. C. Leasman

Principal's Message

Carlinville-Hi Yearbook represents the achievements and highlights of the 1967-1968 school year. The senior class is looked to for excellence in work and example in behavior. I want to congratulate the Senior Class of 1968 for its many accomplishments and the good example it set for the school. I am sure each senior is proud to be a graduate of Carlinville High School and in future years will look back with appreciation on the fine school plant and the excellent faculty that the Board of Education provided.

Those who teach and promote the appreciation of Shakespeare, the perfection of test tubes and experimentation, the ingenuity of wars and foreign countries, and the fundamentals of facts and figures—our teachers and administrators—are the basis of our learning. Their job does not end with relating facts in a classroom; behind the scenes they are plagued by extra meetings, by numerous issues, and by worried parents. They play a major role in school activities, acting as sponsors, advisors, referees, and ticket-takers. Through instruction and experience they have learned to cope with their profession.

“Knowledge is, indeed, that which, next to virtue, truly and essentially raises one man above another.” — Joseph Abbison

Carlin-Hi

The Carlin-Hi Yearbook staff is composed of upper classmen from C.C.H.S. whose main aim is to give a complete history of each year's activities at our school.

Many new features have been added this year to the annual. A group of junior editors was organized so that the problem of organizing a yearbook will not be so difficult for them. Also, the staff has inserted an optional eight-page autograph section for the seniors.

Each member of the staff has his own job. Judy Mieher, editor, was in charge of the "favorites" section. Elnor Hammann, co-editor, took care of the faculty. Marjorie Dugan was copy editor. Mary Jo Reiher organized the organizations. Ellen Newby worked with the class section; Lauren Brown handled activities; and Elizabeth Ramey tackled the sports section. Andy Zilm was head photographer. Mrs. Amyx, Dean of Girls, was advisor for the yearbook. With her help and good judgment, the yearbook was finally put together.

Much planning and hard work goes into the publication of the yearbook. This year, we've added several pages, thrown in a few more pictures, recognized a few more organizations and activities, and tried to make this book "the" one that you'll remember. We hope this book gives you as much enjoyment in fifteen years as it possibly does today.

Cavalier Staff

The Cavalier staff members are the fact-finding, detective-like reporters of C.C.H.S.'s newspaper. The staff does reporting on unusual school activities and sports, and keeps us well informed of all activities going on at school. It interviews teachers and students and finds out the latest gossip. The newspaper sponsors the bookstore, where we are able to buy so many of our needed school supplies.

Cathy Boente, Sally Heinz, Mrs. Simpson

Each year members of the staff accompany Mrs. Simpson, the advisor, to Jacksonville for two days to attend a workshop where they acquire many new ideas which help to make our school newspaper so interesting.

The Cavalier tries to promote school loyalty, spirit, and enthusiasm. It gives those who have a desire to work on a newspaper an opportunity to do so.

The Junior and National Honor Societies give recognition to outstanding students on the basis of scholarship, leadership, service, and character. The group is divided into two sections: the Junior Honor Society and the National Honor Society. Junior members in the freshman class must have a B+ average and Sophomores must have a B average. To be a member of the National Honor Society a junior must have a B+ average for five semesters and a Senior must have a B average for seven semesters. Students are rated by the teachers in regard to their eligibility.

A banquet is held in March for the members and their parents. At the end of the year, special awards are given to members of the Junior and the National Honor societies at a special assembly.

Student Council

The students at C.C.H.S. were lucky to have such an energetic group of Student Council members this year. These students proved that they were well qualified to represent their classes. Members of the council sponsored a soda machine this year, instituted red and blue days to show school spirit, and hobo and dress-up days. They also worked hard to give us a wonderful Homecoming dance.

The Student Council tries to promote understanding and cooperation between the students and the faculty. They consider common school problems, and encourage good citizenship.

Members participated in an anti-smoking campaign conducted by a television station in Springfield with eleven other schools in this area. Pat Coyle and Pete Genta were our weekly delegates to this campaign.

Two members were sent to the State convention in Chicago and six members attended a district meeting in Belleville. The president, Sandy Bates, and David Brown attended an area workshop at Northwestern High School.

Spanish Club

Mrs. McCallon, advisor; Dana Kuntzman, secretary-treasurer; Sally Heinz, President.

"Shall this meeting now come to order?" ... Film strips ... "Que hora es?" 4:30 already??? Spanish party ...

Spanish Club's big activity was a trip to Keil Auditorium for "Fiesta Mexicana." Members participated in after-school meetings, bingo in Spanish, sponsoring a dance after a football game, Christmas Party, securing pen pals, slides of trips and detailed talks, visit from a Brazilian exchange student, and games. A theater movie "Maria Candelaria" was conducted by the club and made available to any CCHS student.

The club holds its meetings once a month, after school on Wednesdays with 25c dues per semester. The purpose of the club is to encourage further student interest in the subject, and any student who has completed two years of Spanish may continue to be a member.

Latin Club

Latin Club is actually two clubs in one: Latin I and Latin II composed of members from those two classes. Holding their meetings once a month during their class period, they have skits, games, reports, films, slides, and singing. On a member's birthday they sing Happy Birthday to him in Latin. The games are played in Latin, and the skits provide an opportunity for the class members to engage in a dramatic program.

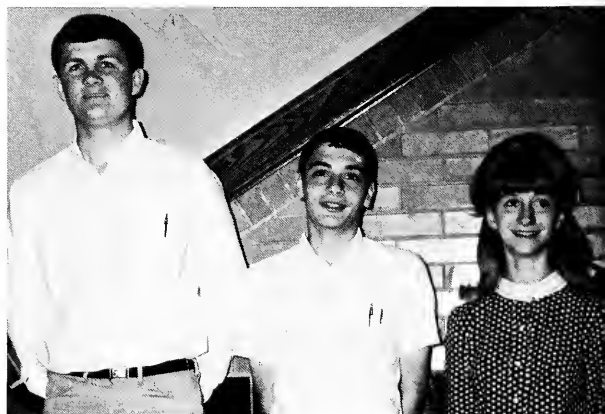

Each club has its own name, colors, and motto. The officers are named after the members of the Roman Republic (the president being the "consul primus"). Dues pay for books, slides, film strips, program material, and decorations. All of these may be used by the students for reference. In previous years, they have earned money by concessions.

Latin week in Illinois comes in April. All of the students participate by wearing tags, and having a project or a poster. Every two years they go to the University of Illinois to gain knowledge of the classics.

The Roman Banquet held during Latin week was a special event this year. 65 Latin students and former students, dressed in togas, paid tribute to Mrs. Best's last year of teaching. They presented her with an engraved wrist watch in appreciation for her devotion and dedication to her teaching and her students for the past 22 years.

Tri-Sci Club

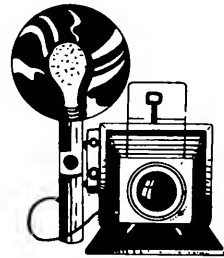

The Tri-Sci Club was organized to give students interested and gifted in science an opportunity to make further study and to do project work in the fields which interest them most. It allows students to learn more about science and encourages them to experiment in other areas. During their meetings, they take field trips, study the environment in this area, and have projects that concern science.

Members of the group took a trip to St. Louis visiting the planetarium and the zoo and also participated in science fairs at Jacksonville and Greenville.

Camera Club

The Camera Club allows students who are interested in photography to learn more about the art of photography and to acquire better techniques of taking and developing good pictures.

The Camera Club meets frequently to discuss methods of photography and to help those who have specific problems in taking pictures.

The FTA—Future Teachers of America—seeks to enable its members to study and identify the qualities, traits, and aptitudes which are related to successful teaching. Members acquire an understanding of the history of our nation's schools, their purposes and objectives, and an appreciation of the contribution they have made to our free society. The club gains information about the many career opportunities in teaching and gives guidance with respect to the aptitudes and interests of many people.

The FTA pledge requires a member to have physical vitality, mental vigor, oral discrimination, a wholesome personality, helpfulness, knowledge, and leadership.

Activities this year include a concession at a basketball game, serving donuts and coffee at teacher's institute, a trip to James Millikin University at Decatur, attending films on India presented by Mrs. Ensminger, and acting as guides for parents during American Education week. In this club, which serves its school, there are 39 members made up of sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Holding their meetings on the second Monday of each month, they may have films or speakers.

FNA

The purpose of F.N.A. is to develop an understanding of nursing and its relationship to the individual and the community. They try to visit and study the various schools of nursing so that their members may choose wisely for the future.

On March 28, they held a health career day. This was held in cooperation with the Carlinville and Staunton Hospital Auxiliary groups to give the students an over-all view of all the opportunities for careers in the field of health education.

This group also collected toys for the Salvation Army. Among its other services to the school, the F.N.A. helps out with the TB skin tests which are given annually to the student body.

Kathy Rohrabough, Betty Fones, and Rosemary Pressler collected the most money for the March of Dimes.

FHA

The Future Homemakers of America try to help individuals improve personal, family, and community living, now and in the future. It tries to promote interest in homemaking and stresses the importance of the home. It promotes home economics.

The FHA have done many things this past year. They collected toys for the needy children and distributed them at Easter and Christmas. They sent packages to the men in Vietnam, sponsored many dances including the "can" dance, and activities which were of interest to many—such as, Daddy Date Night.

GAA

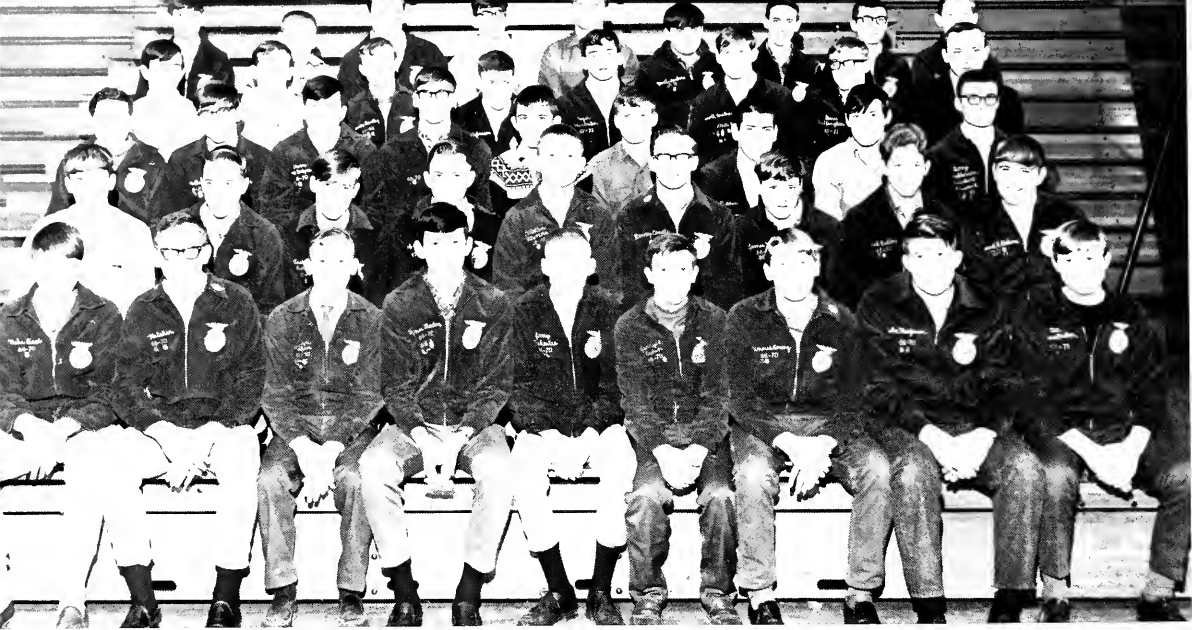

The G.A.A. is established to promote and encourage athletics for girls and to maintain standards in assisting and developing responsible student leadership, plus giving opportunities for high school girls to participate with one another in a variety of sports and related activities in competition. During the year, delegates of G.A.A. went to play days (where local schools meet and play different games). Some girls went to G.A.A. camp in Bloomington. Each girl is eligible to receive a numeral or a letter depending upon the number of points she has received.

Are you sure we do it this way?

Ron Klaus and Ross Arnett were chosen as state farmers—quite an honor.

The Future Farmers of America is an organization that has been at C.C.H.S. for a long time. This group tries to promote leadership and character development, sportsmanship, cooperation, service, thrift, scholarship, citizenship, and patriotism. During the 1967-68 school year, the Carlinsville FFA Chapter participated in several different activities. In the fall, the FFA delivered TB Seals to the Post Office for distribution in the area. At Christmas, the chapter joined with the FHA to repair toys which were given to needy children. The FFA participated in sectional, district, and state contests this year and attended the state and national conventions. Participants in contests have done well and have received many awards. During FFA week in February, the local chapter took part in activities related to the theme of FFA week, CHALLENGING YOUTH IN AGRICULTURE. The chapter organized a safety program and tried to promote safety on farms. The group also sponsored a poster and essay contest for fifth through eighth grade students in the local schools, and awarded prizes to the winners. Every year, the FFA sets up the Nativity Scene on the square and does a number of other things for the community. Each morning, members of the freshman class put up the flag in front of the school and the sophomore class members take it down in the afternoon.

The FFA Chapter at C.C.H.S. deserves our praise for their achievements, and our gratitude for the many fine things they have done for the school and the community.

Wayne Struble won in the District Contest for soil and water management.

The boys chose Patricia Dwyer to reign as their FFA Sweetheart.

This is agriculture?

Lettermen

Lettermen's Club is under the leadership of Coach Bottrell. The 50 members as a group help to provide equipment for the athletic department. This year they landscaped the south end of the football field. Each year, for the winning championship team, they buy patches for their Letterman Jacket. This year they sponsored a dance after the Holiday Round Robin Tournament and some of the concession stands for the Holiday and Regional Tournaments. The purpose of the Lettermen's Club is to attempt to further sportsmanship and to encourage boys interested in athletics.

OFFICERS: John Black, Greg Heinz, Jim Guess.

A "COME AS YOU ARE" pep assembly on hobo day

Pep Band

The Pep Band at CCHS worked hard this year to provide the school with music at many different functions. The pep band is composed of members from the senior band. These students performed at the pep assemblies and most of the home football and basketball games. Their fine performances add much to the winning spirit of '68.

ROW: Barb Spires, Elizabeth Ramey, Jennifer Wetzel, Barb Quarton, Sherrill Wolf, Carol Rushton, Nancy Hays, Mary Parrill, Rosemary Chism, Patricia Dwyer, Mr. Strode.

Girls' Chorus

Okay girls, sit up . . . would you please stop talking and get to work? . . . all right let's begin . . . After much practice and hard work, the girls participated in the Xmas and Spring concerts and represented CCHS in the I.H.S. contest held in Shelbyville where they competed with many other schools from all over Illinois.

The Girls' Chorus is made up of girls from all four classes at CCHS. They meet every day during the 7th period.

Mixed Chorus

The officers of the group are: Mary Jo Reiher, secretary; Chris Woods, historian; Anne Reid, student director; Elner Hammann, treasurer; and Adam Dzañic, Mark Whitler, and John O'Brien, managers.

Open your mouth . . . pull in that stomach . . . sit up straight . . . breathe through your mouth . . . now sing!

All that, and the group had to sing too! But that was the way each class period in mixed chorus went. Learning to sing properly is a hard job, but as time goes along, the task of singing become easier.

The mixed chorus at C.C.H.S. participated in many events this past year. The group performed at the Christmas assembly, the spring concert, and at Baccalaureate on May 26. Much effort was directed at preparing for the I.H.S. Contest at Shelbyville where members of the group represented the school in solo and ensemble competition. The group as a whole also performed in the Contest.

What is this thing? . . . a horn? . . . what do I do with it? . . . Blow! . . . You're kidding! . . . oh, well, . . . whoosh . . . that's the awfulest sound I ever heard!

But with a little patience and a lot of practice this sound becomes music. Every year this small miracle takes place in the Junior Band where scared underclassmen come to begin their music training.

The Junior Band has participated in a number of events this past year and has been a fine representative for C.C.H.S. Its list of activities include marching in the Centennial, Halloween, Memorial, and Lions Club Parades. They performed in a concert in December which was given to help finance Caryn Quarton's trip to Europe where she will represent our school. They also played in the Spring Concert and competed in the Illinois State Fair B contest where they received a Group I rating.

Senior Band

1-2-3- go! . . . all right . . . stop with the music . . . you still don't have the beat . . . let's hear the flutes by themselves . . . very good . . . but it still needs practice . . .

How many times has the band heard this catchy little phrase, "still needs practice"? More times than they would like to remember. But all that practice paid off. The Senior Band of 1967-1968 was one that CCHS can well be proud of.

This year's senior band had a vigorous schedule. The Marching unit performed at all home football games and at half time of the out-of-town Gillespie game, upon invitation. The band appeared in concerts and actively participated in the I.H.S. Band Contest in Shelbyville. Many members of the group participated in special numbers and ensembles in the solo and ensemble contest that was also in Shelbyville. The band participated in Class A competition.

Librarians

Librarians render a great service to our school. The members of the group assist the librarian with library routine by working at the circulation desk, shelving books, preparing displays, filing cards, and running down overdue books.

Working with books gives them an insight on library work as a vocation. Their duties help them to develop dependability, helpfulness, leadership, and good citizenship.

To become a librarian a student must be reliable, courteous, able to follow instructions, and to achieve in school studies.

Projection Crew

The Projection Crew at C.C.H.S. worked hard this year pushing projectors, moving various equipment, carrying screens, and assisting teachers in the operation of some machines. Their cooperation enabled different classes to use audio-visual aids to increase their understanding and to add pleasure to the often dull process of learning. Any high school student interested in the communication media is eligible to join the organization.

The Gymnastic Club is open to both boys and girls, Freshmen-Senior. It meets once a week, usually Monday evening, starting in the fall and lasting into the spring. They work on trampoline, tumbling, free exercise, balance beam and double balancing.

This is to encourage boys and girls to try something a little different than basketball, football, or track. These people work for their own enjoyment and to put on shows for the basketball games and tournaments. There is no competition involved.

There is a gymnastic pin given to the senior boys or girls who complete at least three years of performance.

Cavaliers on the Air

The Cavaliers on the Air is the name of the radio program which reports our school happenings to the public. The broadcast comes to us each Saturday morning from the WSMI studio above Burke's Pharmacy at 9:35 a.m.

The students report on the school happenings of the past week and inform the public of future events. They interview members of different organizations and find out just what's going on. Turn on, tune in, and let'em sock it to you!

Gymnastics

Those participating in the program are: Ed Wilhite, Chuck Emde and Margie Dugan.

Frank Pettit, Johnnie Molen, John Roach, Sam Dooley, Harold Ladley.

Cooks

The cooks at C.C.H.S. are a very important part of our school organization. Led by Mrs. Boente, the cooks prepare five meals a week feeding over 2750 "hungry" kids. Starting at 7:30 a.m. each day, they begin by preparing desserts and making fresh coffee for the faculty. There are six cooks who work with Mrs. Boente. These ladies are divided into three teams with two on each team.

Lunch is served from 11:15 until 12:46 each day. Approximately 550 people are served during this 90 minute interval. The amount of food required to feed the student body is amazing. The cooks prepare over 900 hamburgers at a time, use more than 100 pounds of hamburger in meatloaf, and they also prepare between 1500-1600 hot rolls at a time! That's quite a lot of food.

Mrs. Heigert, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Rhodes, Miss Klaus, Mrs. Justice, Mrs. Malham.

Custodians

C.C.H.S. has a staff of custodians of whom it can be proud. Some of us don't seem to realize the hard work which comes with being a custodian. They are the first to arrive at school and the last to leave. Upon arrival they begin work by repairing broken desks, replacing burned-out light bulbs, and taking care of any mishap which may have taken place at a game the night before. Once school is in session, a custodian can almost always be found in the halls sweeping the floors, emptying trash cans, or picking up after careless students. At the end of the day, our busy custodians sweep the floors in the various classrooms, wash blackboards, and take care of the trash.

A custodian can be found at every gathering held at our high school. Things ranging from Football Banquets, to basketball games, to band concerts, mean that a custodian must be there. C.C.H.S. is very proud of its fine, capable custodians. They deserve much more credit than they get.

Mrs. Boente is the "chief cook and bottle-washer" at C.C.H.S.

Get up . . . the bus is coming . . . no, I can't take you . . . Now hurry and get dressed . . . drink your milk . . . get your coat on, it's here . . . don't forget your books . . . whew, made it.

Have you ever stopped to think how hectic it would be every morning if it weren't for the school bus drivers? Thanks to busses and bus drivers, the students at C.C.H.S. manage to get to school with as little confusion as possible.

Our bus drivers deserve a lot of credit. Many of them have to make quite a few sacrifices just so we can get to school on time. Sure, we could walk, but who wants to trudge six miles in the snow or rain? Busses make it a lot easier and much more comfortable. Students tend to take for granted those things which happen normally such as the arrival of the bus each morning. But can you imagine walking miles every day? Sure, our parents did it, but don't you prefer a bus to snow shoes?

Fighting victors and intense opposition ... were CCHS football. Brute force ... a touchdown, tangible evidence is the scoreboard ... and life is the school of hard knocks. Points meant winning or losing for the record. Wool blanketed players and a skirmish ... time out. Maneuvers in mud, Carlinville red, white, and blue—terra cotta, grey, and indigo. Fans—"all those for Carlinville, on your feet and give a cheer for victory." "First and ten, do it again!" A thermos of coffee and hot dogs dripping mustard. Most valuable player ... managers ... all conference team. Photographers and reporters ... headlines in the paper "Cavies upset Virden 17-8." Half time ... marching band ... our riding Cavalier."

Following the National Anthem, Bill "Jerk" Selvo kicks off and begins the game while the fans look on.

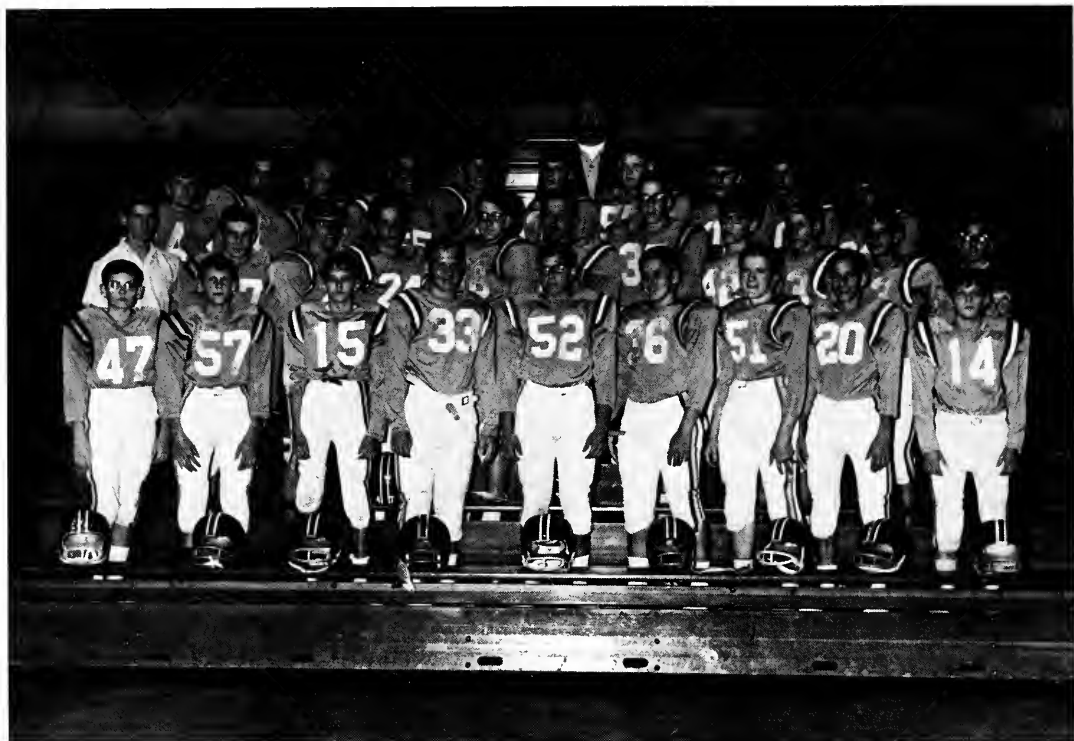

The marching band and majorettes proudly display themselves in a Cavalier formation during half time.

Freshman Football

Coaches Vlasich, Bottrell, McLaughlin, and Schuetz

Letting the boys know what is expected of them, trying to be fair to each boy, believing in teamwork and not a one man team, is the job of a coach. Football is a sport which develops the desire to succeed and improve. It enables the boys to put forth their best effort and achieve success. It helps the team to prepare for life in taking defeats along with success. During the off season, a coach never stops preparing and studying. He gets his best players in the prime positions in the offense and defense and develops them. If he thinks changes are necessary or will be of value to the team, he tries to do so before the season starts. The coaches also try to encourage the boys to build themselves up physically and mentally even in the off season.

As Carlinville grid fans watched '67 football in the making, the freshman players were preparing for their future successes on the field in the next season . . . always a new team to play, new strategy to be worked out—leading our freshman team on for a new spirit. In the pigskin review, the freshman team saw defensive players stop the offensive with a thud . . . passing balls and a battle followed by a touchdown.

Friends, parents, CCHS fans—all interested spectators—filled the stands at the Freshman games.

The 1968 basketball season proved to be one of the greatest in the history of CCHS. The Cavaliers, closing the season as champions of the South Central conference, the Round Robin and county tournaments, and—FOR THE FIRST TIME, the REGIONAL, and their first game in the SECTIONAL—were admired by all. The spirit of the Cavaliers rang through the halls day after day, game after game. Spirit was contagious! The fans cheered their team on with the cry of "Charge!", "We like our team!", and "We're the champs!" In the beginning Coach Bottrell knew he had a good team—nobody believed him. He produced a team, representing CCHS, in which the entire student body was well pleased. The Red blazer boys, with their many accomplishments, will long be remembered with their 25-4 record. OOGA!

Spirit was high during the basketball season—a large crowd was present at each game.

FORE! ... HERE COMES
THE CCHS GOLF TEAM ...
WHAT'S THIS — GIRLS TOO? ...

Yes, this is the second year girls at CCHS have participated in golf. They take to the sport so well they even met with girls from Girard and Staunton May 20 for the Macoupin County Golf Tournament, and won.

Golf is a competitive sport which requires agility, physical conditioning (to make it around the course!), and practice, practice, practice. Golf teams promote good sportsmanship and offer training in a sport that will be of interest in later life. The golfers of '68 will probably be teeing-off long into retirement. Mr. Vlasich is the coach of the boys' team.

The Carlin-Hi Staff feels that little public recognition is given to track. To make a consolation—here is . . .

A Personal Interview With A Track Member*

Track means running and getting back to the school in time to jump in your car and drive home and study and collapse. Track means that you work till you are sick of seeing that dirt road and you want to scream. Track is sort of a thankless joy as far as public recognition goes. It doesn't have the glamour—if you want to call it that—of basketball, or football, for that matter either. Track meets draw few spectators, compared with the other sports. Parents, fellow track friends, and teachers are just about the only ones there. Oh, yes, then there is the other school. Your opponents. The guys you are out to beat if at all possible. Track has its breaks too. We get our share of injuries and ya just have to make the best of it, if you can. But the great things about track—you know that you are setting a record you know that you're going to break the record, it's goals for self—that's the way I see it. You've got to do what you can do the best. Track means seeing your name on the front page of the paper if you're lucky. To me, track means the state of excitement, fear, and dread while waiting for my event. Also nothing brings track to my mind more than the hot stuff they put on legs to loosen them up or relieve the pain of a pulled muscle. The thrills in track come when you realize you've done better than was expected or when you've come up with a surprising time, distance or height. Personally my greatest thrill has been in relays where once or twice I've come from behind to pass someone. This is what spectators like to see and while you're running, you realize if you can pass the guy ahead of you, it'll mean more points for your team and perhaps a better ribbon. Then for a few minutes you are in the spotlight and the temporary star of the team.

These are the district winners who competed in the state meet. They are: Jim Guess, Greg Heinz, Tollie Whitler.

*A special thanks goes to John Black, who without his help, track just wouldn't be track.

Fulfilling his job as sports writer, Brad Inman holds a unique position among the sports pages. It is his clever pen that keeps the public informed and up-to-date on CCHS sporting events.

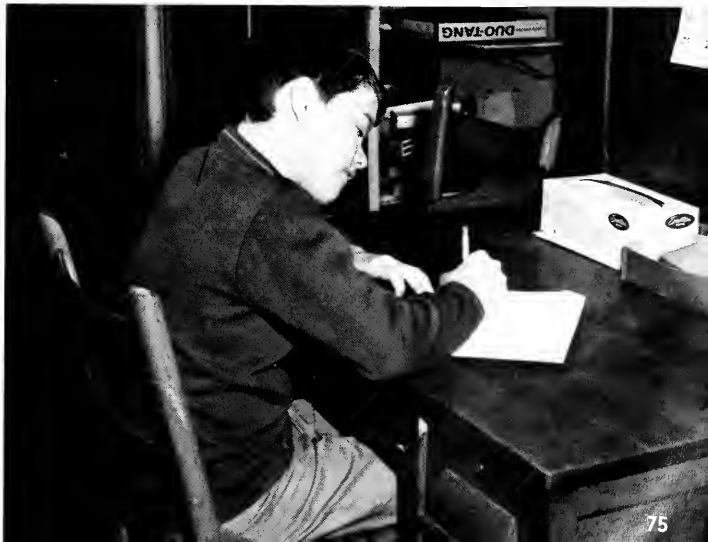

Representative Spirit

The majorettes are part of several scenes which appear during the year at CCHS. These marching, uniformed girls lead the band onto the field during half time at the home football games, participate in contests, and are seen at pep assemblies occasionally. The twirlers try to play their role in the building up of school atmosphere.

Hoehn Bird and Animal Collection Introduced CHS Students to the Art of Taxidermy

This unique bird tree consists of a colorful arrangement of several different species of birds.

A fascinating collection of stuffed birds and animals was presented to Carlinville High School this year by Miss B. Eva Hoehn and her brother Freemont Hoehn. This collection was prepared by their father, the late Jacob Hoehn, and contains over seventy specimen. There are thirty-seven song birds of this locale and several different species of flying squirrels. Included in the collection are the American eagle, the owl, the chicken hawk, the duck, the loon, the prairie chicken, the grouse, the crow, the coot, and the goondill. These birds and animals are on display in the main hall where a plaque has been erected, recognizing Jacob Hoehn for preparing the collection, and Miss B. Eva Hoehn and Freemont Hoehn for donating the collection to the high school.

Miss Hoehn made a formal presentation of the collection to the entire student body. At this time she received a standing ovation in memory of her fine teaching career at this school.

Dr. R. E. Leasman visited Miss Hoehn in her home prior to the presentation of the collection. Here he discovered a beautifully preserved American Eagle which now has an honored place in his office.

The Queen Reigned at the Lion's Club Carnival

Memories of her reign as queen brought a smile to Connie Woods' face as she crowned the 1967 Queen, Cheryl Weatherford. Who can ever forget the 1967 Lion's Club Carnival? The mouth watering smell of frying fish, the clanging of the kiddie rides, and the delightful sight of winners at the side show games—these all remind us of the fun-filled Lion's Carnival.

The 1967 Halloween Parade featured commercials as its theme. The Senior Class won top honors with its float entitled "Cap'n Crunch." This float was cleverly designed, using a pink fantasy boat with a bulging treasure chest of Cap'n Crunch Cereal.

High Point of the Halloween Parade Was the Float Competition

The Freshman Class with their float, "Tony the Tiger," won second prize in the Halloween competition. It was a very original float with a giant Tony the Tiger, a uniformed football team, and a squad of cheerleaders.

Third place was won by the Sophomore Class with their float entitled "Puffa Puffa Rice." The Hawaiian setting was accented by palm trees, a volcano, and gently swaying hula dancers.

The Junior Class won fourth prize, with their float entitled "The Jolly Green Giant." A huge green figure represented the Jolly Green Giant, and costumed students portrayed the Giant's workers.

In addition to the exhilarating noise and confusion of a parade, there are other signs of the coming of fall. Here two dark figures by a glowing bonfire have captured the silent beauty of the occasion.

The Setting of Blue Hawaii Gave the 1968 Homecoming Dance a Tropical Atmosphere

Debbie Cain and Bob Lapp was only one of the many couples who enjoyed dancing to the special music of Homecoming.

The swinging music of Jay Walker and the Pedestrians keep the natives from becoming restless in Blue Hawaii. The band featured current popular hits which brought forth some enthusiastic dancing.

CHS students and alumni danced against the background of Blue Hawaii which was colorfully portrayed in a gigantic mural depicting various tropical scenes. A luxury ocean cruiser overflowing with tourists is seen here.

Homecoming decorations transformed the gym into a tropical paradise. Palm trees provided the lush vegetation; a native hut housed the refreshments; and multi-colored streamers provided a romantic evening sky for the dancers. Everyone enjoyed the delightful Hawaiian leis which served as favors for the dance. Alumni and students alike will remember the 1968 Homecoming Dance as a wonderful night in Blue Hawaii.

A crown fit for a king and a bouquet sweet enough for a queen were the gifts of Homecoming Pages Bill Leefers and Jane Lapp.

Donnie Reid and Jean Leefers had smiles on their faces as they carried a royal crown and bouquet to one of the 1968 royal pairs.

Deuces Were Wild in the Homecoming Court

mann, and King Ronnie Klaus. The last row consists of alumni, Greg Hudson and Connie Neunaber.

Freshman attendants were David Johnson and Janet Barkley.

Homecoming was very special this year with a tie in the voting for queen. As a result of this tie, there were two queens and two kings. For this reason Connie Neunaber and Greg Hudson had the unusual opportunity to crown two royal pairs. Without a doubt this dual crowning doubled the fun and excitement of the 1968 Homecoming Dance.

Crowns Were Claimed by Two Royal Pairs

King Ronnie Klaus and Queen Elner Hammann approached the royal throne, anticipating their coronation.

There were smiles on the faces of King Mike Boston and Queen Becky Blackburn as they proceeded to their royal coronation.

Award Winners

Greg Heinz evolved from uncoordinated toddler to the 1968 Athlete of the Year. Mr. Rossetti beams as he presents the award.

Mary Parrill is surprised at the assembly by being presented the GAA sportsmanship award.

David Brown and Kathy Hopper received the Outstanding Business Student Awards.

John Black—SAR winner.

The Rotary Club entertained some of the graduating seniors with a delicious dinner and a delightful program.

The Hospital Auxiliary presented Barb Stults with a nursing scholarship and Carolyn Becker received a scholarship from the BPW.

Peggy Burger was elected First Vice-President at a Section meeting of FHA.

An outstanding senior, Brian Lowe was the first boy at CHS to receive 5 letters in one year.

at C.C.H.S.

Greg Konneker, Richard Ruyle, and June Johnston received high ratings in Latin contests, representing our school.

Ed Wilhite received many awards for his science project including "Outstanding" award at the U. of I. His math project is "Polynomial Expansion Into the Fourth Dimension." He received the high mark on the CHS math contest.

National Merit Letters of Commendation were given to Lauren Brown, Ed Wilhite, and Sally Heinz.

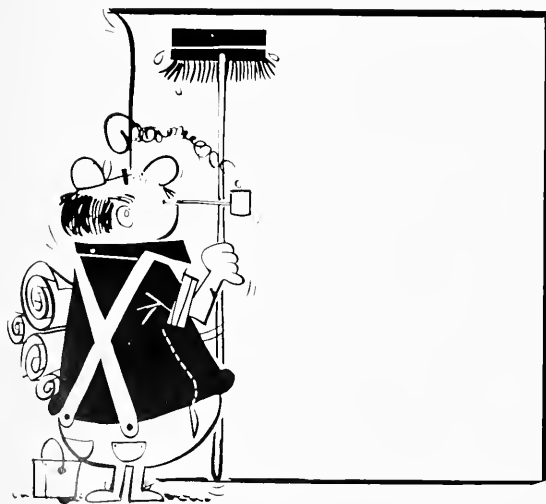

Assembly Programs Added Spice

John Boyd thrilled the racing enthusiasts in the audience with his film and talk on racing techniques and safety.

The Whistler made his CHS debut when the Pittsfield High School Band included Carlinville in their tour. The Whistler, the Stripper, and Mary Poppins were a few of the special numbers given by this fine group.

to Academic Life at CCHS

Hey, we have an assembly today! . . . Did you hear that one of the Senior Speech students is supposed to introduce the speakers? . . . Save Harry, John, and me a seat, will you? . . . Boy, do I like getting out of class . . . This looks pretty good at that . . . Dig that girl playing the sousa in the last row . . . Not a bad program at all!!

Those were typical comments on assembly day at CCHS. The students have enjoyed programs on everything from snakes to Abe Lincoln. Eight cultural and numerous school-oriented assemblies were given throughout the school year. They proved interesting, informative, and entertaining. The student body wishes to thank the administration for arranging these programs.

A hair-raising program—THIS ATOMIC WORLD

The Junior Play —

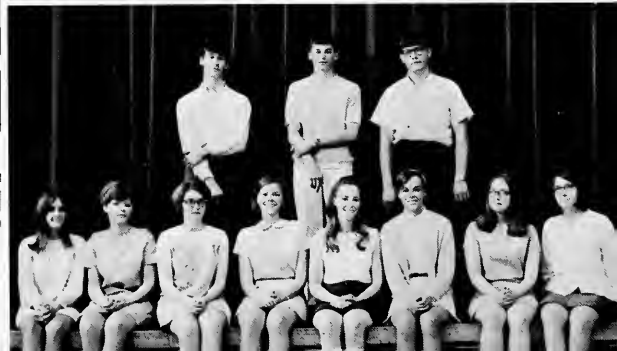

Everyone gladly lends a hand to help get the show on the road—well, almost everyone.

Dress rehearsal is a time of experimentation. Here Joanne Mitchell adds an artist's finishing touches to a joyful Cindy Crawford.

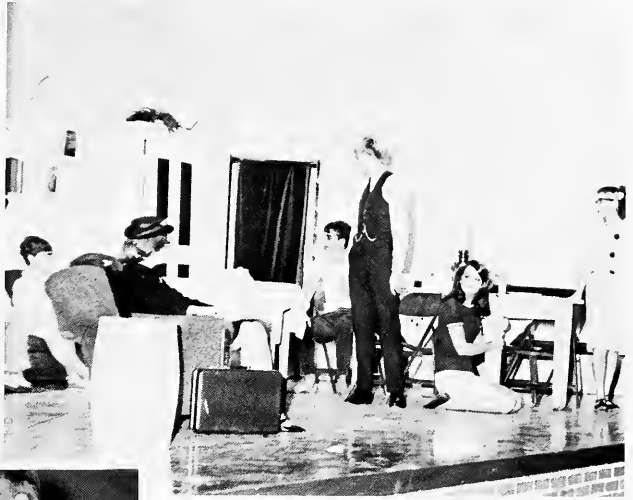

The dress rehearsal was a jumble of misplaced lines and embarrassing pauses, but somehow the cast was able to recover in time for the next night's performance.

A Drama in the Dark

This year's Junior Play, Room for One More, will undoubtedly be remembered as one of the most unique plays in our school's history—though possibly not for its dramatic content.

It seems the second act really took the audience by storm—snow storm, that is. The evening of the play just happened to be scheduled on the same evening as the most severe bliz-

"I guess you might as well have a couple of kids as a couple of old trunks."

By flickering candlelight, Mr. Davis accepts from the cast a gift certificate, whiskey flavored gum, and gin lollipops as a token of their appreciation for his guidance and patient suffering. He is seen here squinting to read the accompanying card.

zard of the entire winter, and when the power lines gave way, both the cast and audience were literally left in the dark.

But, of course, the show must go on, and after a frenzied search, enough candles were located and stationed about the stage to allow the performance to continue and, fortunately, to reach its conclusion, with no further major mishaps.

The fearless leader—Mr. Davis

Mrs. Iannucci, played by Joyce Monti, explains that the Russian newspaper, the Daily Worker, is very useful when it comes to wrapping fish in her stall at the Fulton Fish Market.

Miss Wiley, played by Sandy Bates, tells the team manager of the White Sox, portrayed by Chuck Emde, that team is now owned by the Russians.

Madame Bukharova, played by Sally Heinz, welcomes Mr. Deborin, played by Mike Boston, to Chicago where he will supervise the activities of the White Sox.

Everyone, including the cast, wielded a paint brush to get the set in shape in time for the play.

What happens when an eccentric millionaire leaves the Chicago White Sox to the Russians? The answer to this question made "A Pennant for the Kremlin" one of the funniest plays ever presented by Carlinville Seniors. The plot evolved around the race to win the national pennant. The White Sox missed the pennant by only one point but in spite of their defeat the play has a happy surprise ending.

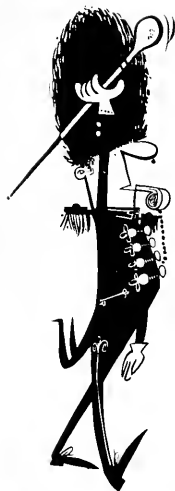

Vivian Calloway, played by Vicky Shade, was a reporter who was out to keep up with the news.

The team and the fans behind them await the decision of the umpire; this decision is the national pennant for the Kremlin.

There Was Excitement and Tension in the Air on Contest Day

The main event in the year for the Senior Band is their participation in the I.H.S. Band Contest. This year's contest was held in Shelbyville on the 16th of March, and C.H.S. competed in the Class "A" rating, and received a rating of excellent.

Solo and ensemble competitions held on April 20 for the band and choruses was also held in Shelbyville. The students who chose to participate in this contest represented our school well; they earned a total of 11 superiors, won by solo or ensemble instrumentalists, and by members of the choruses.

Mary Jo Reiher sings to the flowers.

The Junior Band showed the public just how good they were!

Spring Concert Proved a Success

The Carlinville Music Department presented its annual formal Spring Concert on Friday, May 17, in the High School gym.

The program was presented by the High School Mixed and Girl's choruses and the Junior and Senior Concert bands. Along with organization performances, there were several special numbers presented by students who participated in the State Music Contest.

The Girl's chorus showed off its Choralettes and other special numbers. The Mixed Chorus presented some of its members in song. Many of the outstanding musicians in the Junior and Senior bands also had an opportunity to display their musical talents.

A sextet from the Girl's Chorus provided much enjoyable entertainment for the public.

The Girl's Chorus, under the direction of Mr. Strode, delighted the audience with their music.

Judy Mieher, dressed in overalls and pigtails was selected as Best Senior Hobo.

Torn and dirty Jim Stutsman was elected Best-dressed Freshman Hobo.

Baggy pants, suspenders, and a long tie gave Brad Inman the Sophomore class honor.

A sloppy suit and sandals made Pat Coyle Best Hobo for the Junior class.

From the Sloppiest to the Sublime

Mike Boston and Joe Gugger were all smiles on Dress-up Day.

Even though it was Dress-up Day, Sally Heinz had time to read the paper.

Mrs. Best and her class were dressed for the occasion.

Ed Griffel and Scott Reichmann looked exceptionally nice on Dress-up Day.

Elner Hammann protests, "Dr. Leasman, I do not have more cookies than you!"

Linda Lippold helps herself to the delicious cookies at the Senior Tea.

The boys were the first to sample and enjoy the cooking of Mrs. Geriets' Home Ec classes. Who says boys can't be polite?

"Don't feed me that line, Becky. Pass the punch instead."

Prom Night Found Juniors and Seniors

The magic of Arabia was captured in the glance of Brian Mitchell and Judy Bormida.

Ken Emery, Susan Briskovich, Becky Bentley, and Ken Meece eagerly read the Senior wills, hoping that all those special things would be passed on to next year's seniors.

Diane Lange and her date enjoyed the evening air before they entered the land of a 1000 and 1 Nights.

The Junior Class had the keys to a perfect prom—work, decorations, and more work. Alluring maidens Patti Schaefer and Karyl Hopper greeted each guest as he discovered the wonderful land of Arabia. Cindy Crawford found that artistic creation came more easily without her shoes. Mike Rives discovered the depth of his creative soul high atop a ladder. Swirled crepe paper brought moonlight to the land of a thousand and one nights, while a vivid mural paraded mysterious Arabian personages.

MEMORIES OF THE PROM ... A clean car ... a new hair-do ... a straight tie ... a once-in-a-lifetime dress ... a special corsage ... a boutonniere with a bee ... Sunday best manners ... a grand entrance ... senior wills ... the prophecy ... Walter Scott and the Guise ... tired feet ... a movie at the drive-in ... a hearty post-prom breakfast ... and a sleepy good-night kiss.

Seniors Enjoyed Graduation Ceremonies

The Reverend William Rambo presented the Invocation and Benediction at the Baccalaureate Service.

The Reverend Merle D. Conklin read a scripture lesson from II Kings 7:3.

"Why Sit We Here?" was the topic of Reverend Lennis Blackburn's inspiring message to the Senior Class.

The foundation is laid. The building blocks of education, citizenship, leadership, and maturity are arranged. What is graduation? Seniors sought the answer to this important question and found that Reverend Blackburn had some significant answers.

Marshalls Mary Helen Leasman and Richard Bertinetti led the seniors in the commencement processional. The hearts of these graduates were filled with mixed emotions for these were years of wisdom and of foolishness, of success and failure, of joy and sadness.

Salutatorian Lauren Brown and Valedictorian Kathleen Hopper were given the honor of presenting the opening and closing addresses at the commencement exercises.

The top ten scholastically were Becky Cannedy, Dan Kuntzman, Kathy Hopper, John Black, Ellen Newby, Ed Wilhite, Sandy Bates, Judy Mieber, Lauren Brown, and Sally Heinz. Kathy Hopper, John Black, and Ed Wilhite also received awards for being the top three science students.

Place in line, be on time.
"Here's the row I'm in."

Wringing hands, college plans.
"Boy, I wish they'd hurry!"

Music starts, thumping hearts.
"Right foot first—Don't worry!"

Even beat, shuffling feet.
"Take it slow and easy."

Pivot right, collar's tight.
"Boy, I sure feel queasy."

Honors given, seniors risen.
"Diplomas!—Next comes mine."

Name called, speaker stailed.
"What's holding up the line?"

With skin all flushed and tainted,

My fault, smelling salts.

'Comedy of Errors''

Remember when Ed Wilhite had to count on his fingers?
 Remember when the senior English classes went to see a play in St. Louis and came back to find Lauren Brown's car had been fined for illegal parking?
 Remember the day Becky Blackburn was at school for a test?
 Remember when Wendy Straub loved trees (among other things)?
 Remember when Karen Thompson's dream was to be a veterinarian?
 Remember Mr. Rossetti's explanation of why he became a teacher and not a cowboy?
 Remember when Sonja Drury was a redhead?
 Remember when Bob Swires was a Roman Gladiator on the Sophomore float?
 Remember when Mark Beasley sprayed David Kallal's carrot top black?
 Remember when the Sr. Class voted 102—to 3 advisors—against adjourning the class meeting?
 Remember when we were Freshmen and there used to be a Hands-Off Policy? Those teachers were defenseless!
 Remember that first Halloween float of Halloween with 50 feet of truck bed and 9-1/2 of decoration?
 Remember when Phil Loveless got the floor at a class meeting? An oration.
 Remember when Keith Kramer drove 20 m.p.h. in Drivers Ed?
 Remember when Clara Suhling used to be "Clarabell" from Howdy Doody Time?
 Remember when Roger Wilton was short?
 Remember when you used to see Jack Sanson . . . alone?
 Remember when Steve Weller didn't have a tell-tale cough?
 Remember when Andy Zilm was a kid who didn't like girls?
 Remember when Hopper and Hughs, weren't?
 Remember when Keith Baker didn't know crossword puzzles existed?
 Remember when we voted for class rings and Marshall Pitman stuffed the ballot box?
 Remember when Sally Heinz didn't have freckles?
 Remember when they couldn't find a graduation hat to fit Tollie Whitler?
 Remember when Greg Heinz was the most uncoordinated kid in grade school?
 Remember when John Black and Margie Costello couldn't draw a straight line?
 Remember when you didn't even know Simbu Guess was around?
 Remember the 8th grade Prom that all the teachers insisted was just a party?
 Remember the PTA dances where the boys stood on one side and the girls on the other?

cheers, new faces, new fads, new friends, new ideas, new soda machine, and now
a new honor for seniors—

CORNERSTONES OF CHARACTER

changed so much, but it was because the character of certain, outstanding seniors had given this year and its activities a new twist.

Now we salute these students whose qualities have been the cornerstones on which the happiness and success of '68 was built.

A school tradition too worthy to ever become outdated, is that of Mr. and Miss Carlin-Hi and their runners-up. These students are chosen from the Senior class as being the best representatives of CCHS spirit. The student body then votes, and '68 has its personages.

The yearbook staff congratulates you who were chosen. What an honor to be nominated, and what an honor to be selected.!

Built-in Laughs at C.C.H.S.

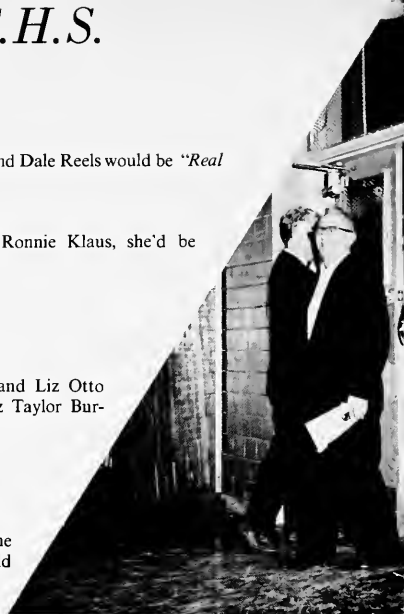

They named a dance after Bill Selvo. The Jerk.

If Bill Baker married Peggy Burger, they could open a "burger baker business."

If Tom Taylor, Paula Burton, and Liz Otto combined names you'd get—Liz Taylor Burton.

Larry Eades and Arlene Bridges could build Eades Bridge.

If Wendy Straub married Chuck Emde, she'd be Wendy Emde???

Jim Hopper, Steve Trakinat, and Sherrill Wolf would be, "Track that hopping wolf, Steve."

If Charles Franz married Jo Ann England, there's sure to be a war!

Don't forget—Jerry "Babbling" Brooks.

Knock, Knock
Who's there?
Jay
Jay who?
Jay Bird Barr

If Lynn Bright married Gerry Beanblossom, their flower garden would grow "bright bean blossoms."

What does Joy Lea Borman do for Judy Selvo?

Joy makes good "Suds"

If Ann Levi took Deb Browne's last name for a middle name, she'd be Ann Brown Levi's.

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I—
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.
Robert Frost

And then there was the day when all mothers cried, the day when Billy or Susy or Johnny went off to their first day of school . . . And when you came home with all those papers that might still be up in the attic . . . well, she hated to brag . . . Past the terrors of grade school . . . and on into the world of the active Junior High . . . Adjustment . . . and then there was high school and all those trays to carry for "weak" Seniors and of course "persimmons." And it has gone by, twelve years of preparation to fit you to go out into the world . . . Now William and Susan and John have entered the school doors for the last time as students, and I see that rain drops have leaked through the ceiling and on to their cheeks.
